

In The Anagogy

inside the hobbled smith's open forge differs from his wares as he hawks them teeming at every time on Earth anyplace Clarke's heart is Whitmanic his head Dantescan we live where the common need for beauty gets thwarted by a truth so full of dull eternities no present tension remains psyche copes shunts us aside under one notion whose sovereign is a monarch named Opinion contraries contend an isolato personage convenient to misrule of empire seems a fit emblem limning our plight but that's insane unclean not healthful one's informed self goes public the poem its text
